A ground breaking ceremony was held on Friday August 28th to formally begin the first steps of construction toward a new medical office building. The ceremony took place at the corner of Caldwell and West Olive in Staunton.

Current plans for the new construction are to house Community Clinic physician's office located in the three story old hospital complex that was built in 1951.

The new office building project has been awarded to the architectural firm of Evan Lloyd from Springfield. Construction is scheduled to begin in mid-September.

The construction is expected to take approximately six months to complete.
